Command Sourcing is proud to offer a defense shield for dependable protection to officers and civilians alike, while minimizing liability and injury risk. It is a cost-effective method for deterring violent actions, in individual or crowd situations. Copper stripping on the front of the ES defense shield, pulsed over four-seconds, applies 50KV to the muscles of the body of anyone who comes in contact with it, providing temporary incapacitation – a primary law enforcement objective. The shield is equally effective for safely dispersing unruly crowds. Whether in a prison cell, correctional facility, or public space, this shield gives officers a substantial deterrent to violent activity without sacrificing safety.
